

RESIDENTIAL PROGRAMS

DEVELOPING LIVING/LEARNING COMMUNITIES

Truman State University's status as a residential institution, where almost half of all undergraduates live on-campus, opens up unique educational opportunities for students. The University is firmly committed to enriching undergraduate life with experiences which integrate living and learning. On-campus residence at Truman allows students to participate in the mainstream of University social, recreational, cultural, and educational activities. Ideally, Truman students find in their residences a supportive learning community where they can grow in understanding of self and others, explore ideas and values, develop appreciation for diversity, discover new interests in small group and informal settings, and share some of the fun and satisfaction of life-long learning.

RESIDENTIAL COLLEGE PROGRAM

Truman's Residential College Program (RCP) offers all freshman students and many upperclassmen the chance to experience a living/learning community by bringing an academic focus to some of the activities and relationships developed within the residence halls.

The Residential College Program puts academic success at the forefront by providing students ready access to comprehensive advising and academic support services. Full-time, professional academic advisors have offices in each of the major residence halls. They assist in specific registration and academic course planning for all resident freshman and undeclared students and give advice regarding general academic concerns, skills, tutoring, or liberal arts career planning to all resident students. Student advisors assist the professional advisors in helping students to understand when and how to use the resources made available to them. The professional advisors working in the Residential College Program, in turn, assist students in beginning to establish meaningful relationships with Truman faculty in their declared majors or areas of interest.

The Residential College Program also supports special initiatives to increase faculty-student interaction outside the traditional classroom. The RCP facilitates personal engagement in liberal arts learning, for both faculty and students, through small seminars conducted over meals, evenings of Great Conversation, Nights in the University Gallery, field trips, and participation in the RCP/Student Senate Summer Reading Program.

RESIDENCE LIFE

Residence Life oversees eight residence halls and three apartment complexes, all with modern living facilities and located within easy walking distance of the academic buildings. The residence halls range in size from 68 to 700 residents. Approximately 70 percent of the rooms are two-person, with the remaining rooms housing three or four students. Upper-level students may choose to live in University apartments. These apartments are furnished, with utilities paid, and offer an optional meal plan through Food Service.

Based on their preferences, students in the residence halls may choose from such options as quiet house, single-sex wings or co-ed living arrangements, and large or small buildings. Students may request international student roommates at Grim Hall, the International House. Blanton-Nason offers a single-sex (female) living option; Brewer offers a similar single-sex environment for a sorority-defined community.

Professionally-trained, full-time Area Coordinators, live-in Hall Directors, Community Coordinators, and Student Advisors work in the on-campus residences to assist students in adjusting to college life. The Residence Life staff employs a student developmental model to help students mature in their interpersonal skills, in balancing independence and communal responsibility, and in establishing their self-direction and life-goals. Numerous social, recreational, or competitive leisure activities and opportunities for peer leadership also exist in the residence halls.

Residence Life has a handbook that outlines the policies, services, and building information for all of the residential facilities on campus. Handbooks are sent to first-year students at the time of their room placement; upper-level residents may obtain copies at each hall desk or at the Residence Life Office. The handbook is also available at <http://reslife.truman.edu/handbook>.

CITIZENSHIP AND COMMUNITY STANDARDS

The Office of Citizenship and Community Standards (OCCS) strives to resolve allegations of misconduct under the Student Conduct Code in a manner consistent with its core values of fairness, honesty, and integrity. Citizenship and Community Standards acknowledges the importance of balancing the interests of the individual student or student organization and the community at large, as well as protecting the integrity of the institution and its values. To that end, the Office of Citizenship and Community Standards seeks to enhance the educational mission of the University by promoting a caring, just, and responsible community. To foster the development of future leaders and responsible citizens, OCCS promises to support the academic community by promoting and investing in students' holistic learning, ethical growth, and character development. The University recognizes the significance of students' rights. Those rights include freedom of expression, autonomy, procedural protection, and the respect for personal integrity of all members of the community and their property. By ensuring those individual rights, the University fosters an environment conducive to students' success and well-being. By doing so, students respect the dignity, rights, and property of the University community. Forensic activities constitute one of the oldest learning communities at Truman State University. It is truly a liberal arts activity in that intercollegiate speech and debate is a mix of psychology, critical thinking, research, current events, and communication. Truman competes in debate and individual events. The forensics program is one of the leading full-service forensics programs in the nation, ranking among the top ten parliamentary debate programs in the nation since 2000 and among the top ten programs nationally in its individual speaking events division during the same period. Truman won the National Parliamentary Debate Association National Championship in 2000 and has placed seventeen teams in elimination rounds of the national championships since 1999. The program placed fifth at the National Forensic Association tournament in 2003. Truman has consistently held the Missouri overall forensics championship since 2001 and routinely earns several hundred awards and other honors during each invitational tournament season.

GREEK LIFE

The Office of Greek Life strives to provide guidance and support for students’ co-curricular Greek involvement. The staff work in partnership with Greek organizations to develop programs and policies which encourage a sense of belonging, promote self-governance, challenge students to gain new skills and knowledge, and enable students to participate in positive individual and societal change. MCNAIR POST-BACCALAUREATE PROGRAM

McNair is one of the five TRIO programs funded by the US Department of Education to provide educational opportunity and support to students from disadvantaged backgrounds who demonstrate academic potential. The McNair Program at Truman State University seeks to increase the number of first-generation and low-income students and underrepresented minority students who eventually obtain doctoral degrees. In addition, McNair Scholars participate in research, mentoring, and other scholarly activities. Scholars participate in a pre-research internship during their sophomore year and a ten-week summer research internship during their junior year. During their senior year, the focus is on graduate school placement. They also receive assistance in graduating from Truman and enrolling in graduate school, as well as support in the completion of doctoral studies. McNair Scholars are matched with faculty mentors who assist them in achieving their individual post-baccalaureate educational goals. Truman’s McNair Program meets the social, financial, academic, and information needs associated with gaining entry into and completing doctoral programs and addresses the nation-wide underrepresentation of its target groups in graduate programs.

MULTICULTURAL AFFAIRS

The Multicultural Affairs Center, through its programming, advocates a pluralistic and integrated University environment by fostering understanding among the various Truman constituencies. Focusing on recruiting and retaining students of color (i.e., African-American, Native American, Asian American, and Latino), the Center assists students in their transition from high school to the University environment, helping them to be productive and contributing members of the community.

Multicultural Affairs provides support through academic, cultural, and social programming. Academic programming includes: the Scholastic Enhancement Experience Program, collaboration with the Ronald E. McNair Post-Baccalaureate Achievement Program, and Directions, a freshman orientation program. Multicultural Affairs provides additional support through a tutoring program, study hall, and a peer mentoring program for students on campus. The department sponsors programs and events to encourage understanding among various groups, including: Montage, a freshman week program; Unity, the Dr. Martin Luther King Campus Celebration; Black History Month activities; and Montage, the official newsletter.

ORIENTATION AND ADVISING

Through the Residential College Program and the academic divisions, the University assists students in adjusting to the academic environment. These services are explained in the Academic Information section of this catalog.

GENERAL
INFORMATIONPARKING SERVICES

All vehicles parked in University parking lots are required to obtain and properly display a valid permit. Parking decals are sold in the Cashier's Office in McClain Hall or at the Department of Public Safety. Students and employees must have their license plate numbers and vehicle information when they register their vehicles. Visitors are requested to stop by the Department of Public Safety building and obtain a temporary parking permit. There is no charge for temporary permits.

The regulations pertain to all vehicles, including, but not limited to, motorcycles, motor scooters, mopeds, trucks, automobiles, and buses. A campus map with Parking and Traffic Regulations may be picked up any time at the Public Safety building or the Cashier's Window or may be viewed on our Web page.

Students and faculty/staff who own, maintain or operate motor vehicles on the University campus are responsible for violations regardless of whether or not that individual had possession or was operating the motor vehicle at the time of the violation. It is the responsibility of the owner to advise any driver of University rules and regulations. Lack of space is not an acceptable excuse for violation of any parking regulation.

Parking decals remain the property of the University and are issued to park in designated areas. Parking decals serve as permission to park and do NOT guarantee a parking space close in proximity. Decals are NOT transferable from one vehicle to another.

Students have one week from the first day of the fall and spring semesters to register vehicles. After the initial registration period, a vehicle must be registered within 48 hours from the time it is brought to the University.

All vehicles in University parking lots should have up-to-date registration and should be operational. In the event that a vehicle becomes disabled, please notify the Department of Public Safety.

SCHOLASTIC ENHANCEMENT EXPERIENCE PROGRAM

The Scholastic Enhancement Experience (SEE) Program is a summer educational opportunity available to selected underrepresented students who will be starting college in the fall semester. Students are provided with cultural activities, academic classes and workshops, counseling, and advising. Each spring, up to four Truman students are selected and hired as tutor/counselors to reside in the residence halls and serve as mentors for the students in the SEE Program. For more information regarding this employment opportunity or the program in general, contact Multicultural Affairs located in the Adair Building, (660)785-4142, or the Admission Office in McClain Hall 205, (660) 785-4114.

SERVE (Service Education, Resource, and Values Exploration) CENTER

The purpose of the SERVE Center is to provide organization, direction, and student services that facilitate the responsible citizenship of Truman State University students through community service. The center promotes civic responsibility as an integral outcome of a liberal education. The SERVE Center seeks to foster improved relationships between the University and community by matching volunteer human resources of the University with community needs. The Center provides students with access to the laboratory of society where they may test current knowledge and develop humanistic values. These opportunities allow students to reflect upon their experiences and consider societal needs as forces shaping future societies. Within the context of the University's core values of broadly educating students, increasing students' understanding of moral and ethical challenges, and preparing students for effective living in a democratic society, SERVE seeks to accomplish the following three goals:

- ◆ Facilitate the development of Truman students into responsible, enlightened citizens.
- ◆ Promote a climate conducive to student involvement through participation in community service.
- ◆ Articulate and conduct a program of service-learning which fosters an attitude of partnership between the University and the community.

The Center offers students the opportunity to gain experience through voluntary service with community and public agencies. The SERVE Center maintains a listing of community service needs and helps students select placements appropriate to their interests, academic preparation, and aspirations for the future. Volunteer service is available with human service agencies, government organizations addressing human and social needs and community betterment groups. The Center assists student organizations, fraternities, sororities, and residential halls in finding appropriate philanthropic and service activities for their members and residents. The SERVE Center also assists faculty with the identification of appropriate service-learning opportunities in the community. For more information about service opportunities at Truman, contact the SERVE Center at (660)785-7222.

LS-MoAMP is a three-tiered, early intervention effort that is coordinated through Truman's Graduate Office with the Office for the Vice President for Academic Affairs for the University of Missouri System and the University of Missouri-Columbia Graduate School. The collaborative effort among the University of Missouri System, selected higher education institutions, business, industry and government partners is unique in its approach to the problem of minority underrepresentation in science. The intervention begins at the pre-college level and continues throughout the baccalaureate and graduate education programs. Contact the Graduate Office at (660) 785-4109 for more information.

All incoming students are required to submit a confidential medical history which includes proof of immunizations. Students who do not provide the required information will be blocked from class registration for the following semester. Students requesting a waiver from the immunization policy for medical or religious reasons must have a rubeola titer performed. In the event of a measles outbreak, any student who is not immune by titer or proof of immunization will be required to leave campus due to state regulations.

GENERAL
INFORMATION

Leadership fee of $9 per semester for a total of $36 per semester.

First semester freshmen will be assessed a one-time $150 semester orientation fee.

For undergraduate students, the 18th hour is considered an overload and will be charged the hourly rate above the 12-17 hour range for the 18th hour. Graduate students taking 15 hours will be charged the hourly rate above the standard 12 to 15 hour range for the 15th hour.

Undergraduate hours over 18 will be charged the hourly rate plus $100 for each hour.

Graduate hours over 15 will be charged the hourly rate plus $100 for each hour.

Students enrolled in 1/2-hour increments will be charged accordingly for the extra 1/2 hour.

Students taking a combination of undergraduate and graduate hours will be assessed separately for the number of undergraduate and graduate hours taken.

RETURN OF ENROLLMENT FEES

Students dropping individual courses on or after the first day of the semester are not entitled to a reduction in enrollment fees for that semester.

Students must notify the Vice President for Academic Affairs (McClain Hall 203) in writing if they intend to withdraw from all courses. The withdrawal date is based on the date that the Vice President for Academic Affairs receives the written notification.

A student who drops individual courses while remaining enrolled in other courses is not withdrawing from the University; therefore, the return of enrollment fees policy does not apply. General guidelines for enrollment fee reduction are given below. Specific dates will be published each semester in the calendar section of the Schedule of Classes.

1. Students who withdraw from courses prior to the first day of classes will receive a 100% reduction of enrollment fees for the semester.
2. From the first day of classes through the first 10% of the enrollment period, students will receive a 90% reduction of enrollment fees.
3. From the first 11% in time through the first 25% of the enrollment period, students will receive a 50% reduction of enrollment fees.
4. From the first 26% in time through the first 50% of the enrollment period, students will receive a 25% reduction of enrollment fees.
5. Students who withdraw after the end of the first 50% of the enrollment period pay the entire enrollment fee charge.

Down payments that are advertised as non-refundable are excluded from fee reduction. This includes the freshman orientation fee. After certain publicized cancellation dates, a housing termination fee could be imposed as well as forfeiture of the housing damages deposit.

All students who live on campus will have housing costs assessed through the last day of the week in which the student withdraws.

RETURN OF TITLE IV FEDERAL STUDENT AID

The Department of Education requires schools to determine how much federal student aid is earned when a student withdraws from all classes with 60% or less of the semester attended. What is not earned must be returned. The Title IV Federal Student Aid Programs covered by this law are: Subsidized and Unsubsidized Stafford Loans, Perkins Loans, PLUS (Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students), Pell Grants, and SEOG Grants.

A specific formula determines federal aid earned by the percentage of payment period completed. For example, if the student completed 30% of the payment period, then 30% of the assistance was earned. Once more than 60% of the payment period is completed, though, all assistance has been earned according to the guidelines. If the student received more assistance than earned, the excess funds must be returned to the federal aid programs. If the student received less assistance than the amount earned, the student may be eligible to receive a post-withdrawal disbursement. However, there are some federal funds that cannot be disbursed once a withdrawal has occurred. For example, first-time, first-year undergraduates must complete 30 days before a Stafford Loan can be disbursed. Schools must still follow such late disbursement regulations.

The University will return Title IV aid from the student's account according to the federal formula. A student may also be required to return Title IV aid if enough funds did not exist on the student's account after application of the University's refund policies. If the University notifies the student to return an overpayment, the student has 45 days to return the funds to the University. Students who do not meet the 45-day requirement will have the amount of federal aid owed forwarded to the Department of Education for collection. The student will be ineligible for further Title IV assistance until either the overpayment is paid in full or satisfactory repayment arrangements have been made with the Department of Education.

Institutional refunds and the return of federal student aid calculation will be done within 30 days of the withdrawal date. A letter with a copy of the formula results, any applicable refund, or the adjusted bill will be sent to the student's home address.

Funds are returned to the federal student aid programs in the following regulated order: Unsubsidized Stafford Loan, Subsidized Stafford Loan, Federal Perkins Loan, PLUS Loan, Federal Pell Grant, Federal SEOG, other Title IV aid programs.

For questions, or examples of the federal formula, contact the Financial Aid Office.

RETURN OF NON-FEDERAL STUDENT AID/PERSONAL PAYMENT

If the student received federal aid, the return of federal funds is the first priority. If the student received state or institutional aid, or made personal payments, the state and institutional aid are repaid proportionally according to the source of the payment.

Repayment of aid programs may result in a balance due on the student's institutional account. A copy of the calculation used to apportion repayment is mailed to the student's home address.

If there are questions about individual circumstances, a student may contact the Business Office.

HOUSING FEES

DEPOSIT

A $75 housing application fee is required at the time of application. $50 of the deposit is refunded at the end of the contract period provided proper room check-out procedures are followed and provided there is no damage assessment. Please allow up to four weeks for the processing of the refund.

2. Be a newly matriculating student.

SCHOLARSHIP RENEWALS

Scholarships may be renewed for the next academic year according to the following scale if the student completes a minimum of 24 Truman credit hours from fall to fall (including the academic year and the following Truman summer credit hours of enrollment).

3.25 and above	=	100% renewal
3.20 - 3.24	=	90% renewal
3.10 - 3.19	=	80% renewal
3.00 - 3.09	=	70% renewal

The value of the student's scholarship may fluctuate upward from fall to spring within these ranges, but will not be lowered during the academic year. However, it is the student's responsibility to notify the Financial Aid Office to receive the higher percentage.

Renewal of scholarships will be based on Truman grade point average only. The renewal of such scholarships requires the recipients to work for the University for seventy-five hours per semester. Recipients must submit work proposals for service projects when applying for renewals. Such work projects must be approved by the Financial Aid Office before the scholarships are renewed, and the approved projects must be successfully completed each semester. Scholarship recipients maintaining a 3.25 GPA who do not wish to submit a work proposal to renew their scholarships may renew one-half of their scholarships in exchange for no service obligation. Scholarships can be used for up to eight semesters of undergraduate study if the award was given as an incoming freshman. Transfer awards are pro-rated.

Scholarship recipients who fail to maintain the necessary grade point average for scholarship renewal, but who do maintain a Truman cumulative grade point average of at least 2.50, are eligible to apply for student memorial loans in the same amounts as their former scholarships.

The renewal of scholarships is determined at the end of the spring semester. Students enrolled in the Truman summer session may elect to have their cumulative grade point averages computed following the end of the summer session. Scholarships can be renewed, but not lost, because of Truman summer coursework. Please notify the Financial Aid Office if you intend to take summer classes to renew a scholarship.

The work renewal obligation for scholarships is not applicable until the sophomore year. Such service obligations are waived for freshman students. When the value of the scholarship is $750 or less per semester the service requirement is waived.

The cumulative grade point average for the purpose of scholarship renewals is computed on the basis of grades earned at Truman State University. Grades from other colleges and universities are not included in the cumulative grade point averages required for scholarship renewals, even though the courses in which the grades were received at other colleges or universities have been accepted by the University for transfer credit.

The following scholarships are not included in the types of scholarships for which the foregoing rules are applicable to renewals:

- Art Service
- Athletics
- "Bright Flight"
- Endowed Scholarships
- Graduate Research and Teaching Assistantship
- Graduate Fellowship
- International Scholarship
- Jim Sears Scholarship
- Missouri Department of Agriculture Scholarship
- Missouri Teacher Education
- Music Service
- Reserve Officer Training Corps (awarded by the U.S. Government)

LOSS OF SCHOLARSHIPS FOR DISCIPLINARY REASONS

The recipients of scholarships are expected to display good citizenship and to observe the rules established by the University to guide student conduct. Serious misconduct in violation of such rules shall be grounds for the suspension, revocation, or non-renewal of any or all scholarships held by a student. The Financial Aid Director is authorized to suspend or revoke a scholarship, or to refuse the renewal of such a scholarship, upon notice to the student of his or her alleged misconduct and after affording the student an opportunity to be heard. The action of the Financial Aid Director may be taken in conjunction with, or independent of, an investigation and adjudication by the Dean of Student Affairs for the purpose of disciplinary action against the student.

APPEALS FOR LOSS OR NON-RENEWAL OF SCHOLARSHIPS

Scholarship recipients whose scholarships are suspended or revoked for improper conduct or whose scholarships are not renewed for any reason, may appeal the loss of such scholarships to the Scholarship Appeals Committee, whose decision shall be final on behalf of the University. The appeals petition is available at <http://financialaid.truman.edu>.

GRANTS, LOANS, AND STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

The basic purpose of the federal and state government aid programs at Truman State University is to provide encouragement through financial assistance to those students who might not otherwise be able to attend college. Every effort is made to consider the individual needs of each applicant. Sufficient assistance is not always available through one source, but often a combination or "package" may be possible.

Government aid applications take time to process, and funds are in limited supply. It is important to complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) as early as possible (www.fafsa.ed.gov). Early application and accuracy in completing the forms will ensure consideration for all campus aid programs.

Students receiving financial aid for full-time attendance must be enrolled in at least 12 semester hours for undergraduates or 9 hours per semester for graduates. To receive aid as a part-time student, the Financial Aid Office must be notified. To continue receiving aid, normal academic progress must be shown so that the degree goals can be reached in the usual allotted time. The academic progress policy will be given to aid recipients at the time of their aid-award notice. Other students interested in applying for student financial aid in the future may obtain a copy of the policy at the Financial Aid Office or on the website at <http://financialaid.truman.edu>. All must meet these criteria to receive consideration.

For information and applications regarding the respective aid programs, please contact the office indicated following the name of the grant, loan, or work-study. Federal aid applications can also be obtained from any high school counseling office. The following information could be superseded by federal or state legislation enacted after this catalog is printed.

PELL GRANT Financial Aid Office

A grant from the federal government is available to undergraduate students who qualify based on financial need. At Truman the grant ranges from approximately $400 to $4,050 per year and need not be repaid. Since the Pell Grant is the base of any financial aid package, the Pell Grant eligibility must be determined before any other undergraduate application for financial aid.

CHARLES GALLAGHER GRANT PROGRAM Financial Aid Office

A grant is available from the Missouri Department of Higher Education to qualified undergraduate students who are residents of the State of Missouri. Application (included in the FAFSA) should be made after January 1 and be in by the April 1 deadline of the calendar year the student plans to enter school in the fall. The grant award is $1,500. Only full-time students may receive this grant.

FEDERAL SUPPLEMENTAL EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY GRANT (FSEOG) Financial Aid Office

This grant program provides for federal funds to be used in awarding grants to undergraduate students demonstrating exceptional financial need. Application is made and eligibility is determined from the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Students will be notified by the University Financial Aid Office if they have been selected for FSEOG.

MISSOURI COLLEGE GUARANTEE PROGRAM Financial Aid Office

This is a need-based scholarship funded by the State of Missouri for Missouri residents. To be eligible, you must: have a high school grade-point average of 2.5 or higher on a 4.0 scale; score 20 or higher on the ACT; be enrolled full-time at a participating Missouri post-secondary school; demonstrate financial need as determined by the FAFSA, with a deadline of April 1 of each year; and not be pursuing a degree or certificate in theology or divinity. The maximum scholarship award is based on the tuition cost at the University of Missouri. Other federal and state need-based financial aid programs will be considered to determine the final award amount.

FEDERAL PERKINS LOAN Financial Aid Office

Perkins Loans are made available by the federal government. To be eligible for this loan, a student must be making satisfactory academic progress at the University and also must show financial need as indicated on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The loan amount is $4,000 or less in any one year. A student may not exceed $20,000 for all undergraduate study. Cumulative borrowing for undergraduate and graduate/professional study may not exceed $40,000. No interest is charged or repayment expected while the student is still in school. For new borrowers, repayment begins and interest accrues at 5 percent per year on the unpaid balance nine months after the borrower ceases to be a half-time student. Repayment must be a minimum of $40 a month and must be completed within a 10-year period.

FEDERAL UNSUBSIDIZED STAFFORD LOAN PROGRAM Financial Aid Office

Students who are not eligible for a subsidized Stafford Loan (meaning the government will pay the interest on the loan while the student is in school) may apply for an Unsubsidized Stafford Loan. Students are obligated to pay the interest once the loan is disbursed to them. Interest rates are the same as the Stafford Loan, and may be paid in installments or accrued. Eligibility criteria and loan maximums are the same as the Stafford Loan. For students who have both subsidized and unsubsidized Stafford Loans, it is required that the combined loan amounts stay within the yearly maximums. Students must fill out the Free Application for Federal Student Aid first, so need can be determined for the other federal student aid programs before an Unsubsidized Stafford Loan is approved.

Additional unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan funding is available for independent students (independent status is determined by the FAFSA). Freshmen and sophomores may borrow up to an additional $4,000 per year, juniors and seniors an additional $5,000 and graduate students an additional $10,000. The loan amount may not exceed the cost of school less any other financial aid.

ALTERNATIVE LOAN SOURCES

- ◆ If financing is needed in addition to, or instead of, federal aid, there are several private loan sources.
- ◆ Each loan has different criteria for eligibility requirements, loan amounts, interest rates, and repayment schedules.
- ◆ Information regarding alternative loan sources is available in the Financial Aid Office or at <http://financialaid.truman.edu>.

Work time usually ranges from one to four hours per day arranged around the student's schedule. Pay is at the current federal minimum wage.

To be eligible for a Work-Study assignment, a student must show financial need as indicated by the Free Application for Federal Student Aid. Applications are available beginning January 1. Students are urged to apply early as awards are assigned on a first-come, first-served basis to those with the greatest need.
